February is Pet Dental Awareness Month

Did you know, by the young age of three, 80% of cats and dogs have some degree of dental disease. Dental disease is painful and caused by a build up of bacteria over time leading to gingivitis, plaque and tartar build up. The bacteria can also be absorbed into the blood stream leading to other significant health problems. While a routine of daily brushing and offering chewing treats daily will slow the progression of dental disease, it is vital to remove the plaque buildup and bacteria that lies below the gumline. Just like us, ultrasonic cleaning, scaling, and polishing yearly is necessary to keep that bacterial burden under control! Dental radiographs are also a vital tool in early detection of complications that may lie beneath the gumline. Ask a staff member about our Dental Special.

Wouldn't it be great if you could include your pet's Annual Well Pet Exam into your daily routine without having to go to and from home, or wait in the car? In addition to our standard curbside appointments, Old Towne Animal Hospital will soon be offering Well Pet Drop Off Exams. What does this mean you ask? Schedule your pet's Drop Off Exam and we will do the rest. Rest assured, you can do your grocery shopping, go to the bank, or have lunch with a friend while your pet receives a wellness exam, vaccines, and whatever preventative care needs are due. This option is available for Annual Wellness Exams only. Any abnormalities or health concerns will need to be scheduled as an in-person/curbside exam.
